MIRABAI DEVI

Mirabai Devi is an international spiritual teacher and a living example of unconditional love. She has dedicated her life to the service and spiritual awakening of humanity.

"The highest reality is the Divine light. When you surrender and let go, the Light comes into you, because the Light is you."

Darshan

Darshan is the Sanskrit word that means “to have the vision of God.” During darshan you receive the blessing of the Divine Light, which is transmitted through Mirabai. This transmission of the Divine Light activates your own dormant spiritual energy. It’s often been described as one candle lighting another.

Mirabai will touch the point between your eyebrows with holy ash (called vibhuti) and transmit Divine Light into you. This transmission is called in Sanskrit “shaktipat.” Shaktipat accelerates your spiritual evolution by removing internal blocks, negative patterns and purifying the energy centers of the body.

Darshan does not tie or bind you to Mirabai in any way. It is a gift, freely given regardless of belief, creed, or walk of life.

It is not the purpose of darshan to replace a person’s personal spiritual or religious practice, only to support a deeper understanding and experience of it.

Please prepare yourself before coming up by sitting in silence. Allow yourself to let go and release all your problems and burdens. Try to make yourself empty and witness everything that arises for you in the darshan.

You may also bring a photo, mala (prayer beads), shawl or jewelry (washed in water) to darshan to be blessed by Mirabai. There are items available in the bookstore as well.

When receiving darshan, please form a line as directed and come forward quietly. When it is your turn for darshan, please step up quickly. After receiving darshan, you will be handed blessed food called “prasad.”

It is recommended that you remain in silence and enter into meditation for at least 15 minutes, allowing yourself to fully absorb the experience.

If you have questions about your experiences after you get home, please call 818-954-0453. Ask for John.

If you have a contagious virus such as a cold or flu, please refrain from coming up for darshan. We ask that you tune into the energy of the darshan from your seat to receive healing and blessings.

Please Also Note:

- Photography, recording and videotaping are prohibited.
- Please make sure your cell phone is turned off.
- Please maintain silence during the program to preserve the meditative atmosphere.
- Thank you!
